PART 2: Questions 6 – 10

The teenagers below all want to see a film at their school film club.

On the opposite page there are descriptions of eight films showing at the club.

Decide which film would be the most suitable for the following teenagers.

For questions 6–10, mark the correct letter (A–H) on your answer sheet.

Part 2: Exam tips

- Try to remember as much as you can about each person's description before you start looking for a matching text. This can save you time

6

Martha wants to see a romantic comedy with famous actors playing the main parts. She enjoys watching movies by new directors who use music in their films.

7

William only watches science fiction films. He likes movies with lots of action and special effects but he's not bothered whether the actors are famous or not.

8

Anna likes to see films that are based on novels so that she can read them too. She wants to see a recent, historical drama with a happy ending.

9

Edward wants to watch a complicated thriller with fast and funny dialogue between the characters, where you are never sure who is who until the end.

10

Vivian wants to see an old, black and white musical. She loves films involving people her own age, which include magic and are set in different worlds.

Eight Films Showing at the Film Club

A LAND

If you enjoy the romance of the high seas, this film is for you. Teenager Tom Dudley hides on a ship sailing to the Americas. He hopes to become rich but that's not how things end for Tom. Although made in the 1970s with none of the special effects we expect today, this film is a fine piece of story-telling.

C Blaze

This film may not be full of Hollywood stars but it's full of high-speed chases, amazing computer graphics and fantastic music. In the year 4838, Jonas leaves the world he loves to look for work on a distant planet. However, he finds more than he expected. This film is based on the popular cartoon novel by Toshio Yoshida.

E Star child

Sunny Jones, played by Bonny Wild, is a teenager who finds herself in the land of Zorn, under the spell of an evil queen. Although it's not in colour, the singing and dancing and Wild's wonderful voice bring the film to life and make it as enjoyable today as it was back in 1941, when it was made.

G Making it

Fran is a real young pop singer who dreams of being famous in this documentary drama. The director, Bob Johansson, chose to film this movie in black and white and the final effect is wonderful. The film shows just how hard it is to make dreams come true.

B TOWER

This movie was in cinemas last year and it is director Blake Cole's best film. The film is very close to the original book and the main characters are played beautifully by two unknown young actors. They bring the past back to life and make you really care about them. So when they eventually marry you'll have a tear in your eye.

D Net Worth

Vince is a science geek who spends all his time playing computer games. So everyone is surprised when he suddenly becomes a millionaire after inventing a new game that people can play on the internet. Laugh out loud as Vince enjoys himself being the new 'Mr Popular' at school.

F DOWNLOAD

In director Guss Hall's first film, Katie's life is controlled by the tracks she's listening to on her iPod. She falls in love with Toby while she's listening to love songs but things go wrong between them when she starts listening to modern jazz! Well-known stars Hedda Gold and Jake Myers keep the laughs coming throughout the film.

H CATCH

Harry Black is a spy, at least he says he is, but then he meets and falls in love with Greta who might actually be a spy. There are some amusing, high-speed conversations in this film, so listen carefully and enjoy the action. Are they spies or not? You'll only find out in the final scene.

REACH OUT! CAMPS

Reach Out! is an organisation that runs week-long summer camps, designed to give young people the skills to be the leaders of the future. The camps help to create confident young people who wish to improve not only themselves, but the world around them. Varying in age from 12 to 17, young people come to attend the camps in Canada and the USA from across the world. They spend their time learning leadership skills, considering and discussing important issues such as pollution and health, and helping in the local community. They also meet many other young people who have the same interests and beliefs and they frequently make friendships that will last a lifetime.

There is no average day at the camp and changes are made to the timetable, which is handed out daily, to allow room for exciting events as they come up. However, camp members generally get up at 7.30 a.m. and, once they've eaten breakfast, start their day with some outdoor games to get them warmed up for the busy day ahead. There are classroom workshops in the morning on skills such as public speaking, then there's an hour for lunch at noon. From 1 - 2 p.m., camp members have the opportunity to select from various activities. In recent years these have included dancing, song writing, yoga and basketball.

During the members' time at camp, there is a day known as Action Day. This is when small groups go out with an adult group leader to work with organisations in the neighbourhood. Reach Out! arranges the day several weeks before the actual event and matches the interests and skills of the camp members with the organisations needing their help. This can involve organisations dealing with healthcare, housing, journalism or the environment, to name just a few.

Evenings are spent watching documentary films or listening to guest speakers. One of the speakers this year will be Helen Yates, who has worked on social projects around the world and who writes and sings her own songs about the social issues she is most concerned about. Helen has shared the stage with many of the world's political and religious leaders and has many interesting stories to tell young audiences about them. Helen's goal is to encourage the young people she meets to go out and make the world a better place.

PART 4: Questions 21–25

Read the text and questions below.

For each question, mark the correct letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet

Part 4: Exam tips

- Read through the questions first so that you understand the context

Nobody back home in England knew anything about the 19-year-old Mary-Jess Leaverland who sang for 70 million TV viewers. Her victory in the talent show, I want to sing to the stars was seen by five times as many people as watch a similar UK show, called The X factor, but they were all from Chinese region of Jiangsu, as that's the only place the programme is shown. Mary was in China to study the language as part of her university course when she entered the competition. A friend had invited her to watch him a TV quiz show. On their way, they passed the talent show's studios. She went in, found a producer and sang for him. During the competition she had classes as usual then went to the studios in the evenings. When she wasn't on stage she was busy doing her homework.

Mary used her £900 prize money to fly home to see her mom. When she returned there were no recording contracts to sign or concerts to perform in. She told her mom, who's also a good singer, how amazed she was that she was chosen as the winner, the the two of them chatted happily about their plans to start singing together again at clubs around their hometown. It was only later that Mary's mom thought it might be fun to tell the local newspaper about her daughter's win. Yet, within 24 hours, Mary's story had appeared nationally and just weeks later she had a manager, a lawyer and was off to New York with record companies fighting to sign her as one of their artists. Mary's singing career had started.
